At this workshop on 17th March, Muriel will lead us in considering

“How the music can help in teaching Scottish Country Dancing” with examples, demonstrations and discussions. With Muriel's experience of both playing and composing for and teaching Scottish Country Dancing over many years, it promises to be an exciting, interesting and popular workshop.

Please apply early as we have a restriction on numbers and don't forget your dance shoes!

Our next workshop will be on Sunday 29th September 2019.
